ST. PATRICK'S DAY PARADE MARSHALL

FIRE CHIEF DENNIS M. JENKERSON

Appointed as Chief of the St. Louis Fire Department on November 19, 2007, Dennis M. Jenkerson, a third generation St. Louis firefighter, brings to the post forty impeccable years of operational and tactical firefighting experience, an advanced education and a spirit dedicated to public safety.

Chief Jenkerson earned a Bachelor of Arts degree, Summa Cum Laude, in Organizational Leadership and Development from St. Louis University, with minors in psychology and biology.

Experience and his numerous fortes, have landed Chief Jenkerson on a number of committees including the Mayor's Strategic Planning Committee for Mass Casualty Incidents, Continuing Review for the Washington University School of Medicine Human Studies Board, Standards and Practice review committee member for the Washington University Institutional Biological and Chemical Safety Board, the St. Louis Fire Department Disciplinary Review Board, inter-department research, development and procurement committees, St. Louis Fire Department Safety Committee and special operations committees under the St. Louis Area Regional Response System.

Motivated by a quest for knowledge and a desire to use that knowledge and experience to propel our nation's fire service into the future, Chief Jenkerson is a staunch supporter of employee development through education and training, and utilization of technology and innovation to continuously improve the department's level of service and assure that employees perform their work in the safest, most efficient manner.

Fire Chief Dennis M Jenkerson serves on the following community boards as an advising member, The Salvation Army, American Red Cross, St Patrick's Center, Mathews-Dickey Boys and Girls Club, St Louis University School for Professional Studies, St Louis Fire Department Foundation, Heat-Up & Cool Down St. Louis, St Louis Backstoppers.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY PARADE IN ST. LOUIS CELEBRATES 53 YEARS OF THE WEARIN' OF THE GREEN

On a blustery March day in 1970 Joseph B. McGlynn, Jr., the founder of the St. Patrick's Day Parade in St. Louis, Mayor Alphonso Cervantes, Patrick Walsh, Irish Consul General – Chicago; and an intrepid band of marchers and floats depicting Irish heritage slogged through green-tinted snow on Olive Street downtown in the first St. Patrick's Day parade of the 20th century. McGlynn and the Notre Dame Club of St. Louis put on that first parade. Now, 53 years later and in the 21st century the tradition also known as the Rite of Spring is the centerpiece of the area's St. Patrick's Day celebrations and is still going strong.

Joe McGlynn, now 88 years young, and St. Louis' Honorary Irish Consul, is still a driving force behind St. Louis' most popular and well-attended parade (in good weather over 350,000 crowd the parade route) but now instead of just the Notre Dame Club of St. Louis, he's aided by a committee of nearly 150 claiming Irish heritage and a marshal corps of over 400 volunteers who actually stage the parade. To that must be added a detail of nearly 120 St. Louis police officers, city officials, official sponsors of the parade, media partners, honorary parade marshals, the Irish government, which provides a representative for nearly every parade and others.

Over the years a who's who of Irish elected officials has found their way to St. Louis for the St. Patrick's Day Parade. An honor that no other American city of our size enjoys. The list includes: Prime Minister Jack Lynch, who attended the second parade in 1971; Bertie Ahern, former Prime Minister and Member of Parliament; Erskine Childers, Deputy Prime Minister and Member of Parliament; Marie Geoghegan-Quinn, Minister of the Department of the Taoiseach and Member of Parliament; Ben Briscoe, Lord Mayor of Dublin and Member of Parliament; John Bruton, leader of the Fine Gael Party; John Hume, leader of SDLP, M.P. and M.E.P. in Northern Ireland; Mark Durkan, Deputy First Minister of Northern Ireland; and many more.

The list of Honorary Parade Marshals includes St. Louisans Denny Long, president of Anheuser Busch and Michael Roarty, executive vice president of Anheuser Busch; Most Reverend Edward O'Donnell, auxiliary Bishop of St. Louis; Charles Gallagher, Sr., chairman of United Fruit and Produce; Michael Shanahan, Sr., president of Engineered Systems; Jack Buck, member of the Sportscasters Hall of Fame; Most Reverend Justin Rigali, Archbishop of St. Louis; Patrick Finneran, Jr., vice president and general manager, Boeing Integrated Defense Systems; Charles Drury, Chairman of Drury Development Corporation; Robert O'Loughlin, founder and chairman of Lodging Hospitality Management Company, John Saunders, president of FleishmanHillard and Kevin Short, CEO of Clayton Capital Partners and other distinguished St. Louisans.

In 1978 the St. Patrick's Day Run in St. Louis was added to parade day and precedes the parade on Saturday morning. The five mile/3K run has since become the largest locally organized run in St. Louis. Over 5,000 runners participated in 2019 Michelob ULTRA St. Patrick's Day Parade Run.

"From the very first run 44 years ago, Anheuser Busch was there supporting our efforts to stage the run as well as the parade," notes McGlynn. "This year, Michelob ULTRA will again sponsor the run."

As the year's passed the parade and its spectator base became too large for Olive Street and it and the run were moved to Market Street where it now steps off at 20th and marching east to Broadway and concludes at Kiener Plaza where the Irish Village and Runners Village are located. When the weather is good, more than 350,000 spectators line the parade route to watch the elaborate floats, marching bands, marching units, dance groups, animal units, novelty groups, motorized organizations, and large helium-filled cartoon character balloons.

"We're a little like the Pied Piper, hopefully bringing people into downtown to enjoy the post parade activities, such as the Irish Village, BallPark Village and the post-parade party at the Hilton St. Louis at the Ballpark," adds McGlynn.

Despite a halt in the Parades in 2020 and 2021 for the Covid pandemic, the Parade will resume this March 12, 2022 on its route from Union Station to Kiener Plaza.

After 53 years, one can safely say that the St. Patrick's Day Parade and Run in St. Louis and their attendant parties and activities have become part of the fabric of the community and much anticipated events for those of Irish heritage and those that are Irish for the day or weekend. It's a "rite" that will be right for St. Louis for another 53 years.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY PARADE COMMITTEE PAST PARADE DIRECTORS

In 1992, a "new" tradition began, when it was decided that the job of Parade Director had become so large that a specific person needed to be placed in charge of the daunting task. Prior to 1992, the General Parade Chairman served as the Parade Director before assuming the overall chairmanship.

IN MEMORIAM

Charles Drury, Sr.

Mr. Drury died in September of 2020 at age 92. He was the Honorary Marshal of our Parade in 2006 and attended parades thereafter enjoying the camaraderie of our dinner and events of the weekend. He continued to sponsor events at the Parade.

He was a member of SLU's Board of Trustees from 1995-2007. He and his wife, Shirley, received honorary degrees from SLU in 2008 in recognition their contributions to SLU and Catholic education throughout Missouri.

Mr. Drury was raised on a farm in Kelso, Missouri in the Bootheel. He and his brothers opened the first Drury hotel in 1973 in Sikeston. The business remains fully family owned and operated.

William Haines

William "Barricade Bill" Haines proudly served his country and local community organizations for decades. The St. Patricks Day Parade had a special place in Bill's heart. He dedicated over 30 years to this great organization.

Starting days before the Parade, helping set up communications at the Hilton, late nights covering parking meters with bags, street closures, returning equipment days after the parade was completed, he never stopped to wait for a thank you or gratuity in gesture. His common response was "Are we still having fun"? Bill was 75 years young, a semi retired machinist, but still found time to volunteer for at least 13 other organizations.

As a sub mariner veteran his motto was, "Any time, any where, always ready, always there." Bill was a true asset to our organization he helped in all capacities and will be truly missed. If you look up the word "volunteer" his name would be there.... Bill passed peacefully on August 2, 2021 in his home of natural causes. As a friend he always reminded us all "I'm hear for a good time, not a long time", I wish we had one more day.

Bill was right, we are still having fun....

Rest in peace "Barricade Bill" may your legacy live on in your children and grandchildren.

James Martin Michael Hanifan

The head coach of the Cardinals for six seasons, from 1980 to 1985, the bulk of Hanifan's 30 seasons coaching in the NFL came as an offensive line coach, where he earned praise as perhaps the greatest coach at that position in the league's history.

Hanifan was hired as the Cardinals offensive line coach in 1973. His offensive line in 1975 allowed only eight quarterback sacks for the season, tying the NFL record at the time for a 14-game season. When he was the offensive line coach for the Washington Redskins in 1991, they allowed only nine sacks in 16 games

Hanifan earned Super Bowl rings with the Redskins in 1991 and with the Rams in 1999. He worked for the Rams from 1997 through 2003. After his coaching career he spent several years working as an analyst on the Rams radio broadcasts.

Hanifan was married for almost 58 years to Marianna,

"Coach" never missed the St. Patrick's Day Parade and enjoyed walking through the crowd shaking hands. As the unofficial host of the Hostility Suite, he would entertain the Members with story after story. He will be sorely missed.

IN MEMORIAM

Joseph Michael (“Mick”) McDonough

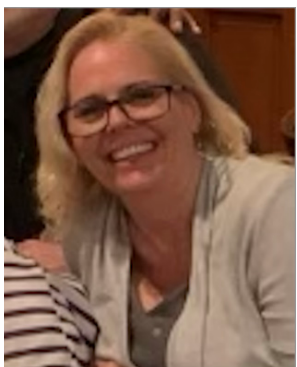

03.16.1940 – 01.08.2022

Parade Committee Member Mick McDonough passed away in January. He spent decades working as a valued member of our Committee, chairing the Judging Sub-Committee for many years. Mick was a proud member of the United States Marine Corps Regiment, 4th Marine Division, USMCR and was honorably discharged in 1969 after beginning his service in October, 1963. He later retired from Southwestern Bell/AT&T after nearly 30 years there.

In addition to volunteering with the Parade Committee, Mick donated his time to FOCUS Marines Foundation, the USO, Toys for Tots, and the Ancient Order of Hibernians, among other groups.

Mick was predeceased by his beloved wife Eileen, and survived by his two children and six grandchildren. Mick was a friend to many. He saw the good in everyone and everything, and will be remembered for his generosity, kindness, patience, optimism and faith.

Julie Ross

April 21, 1964 – February 20, 2022

Last month, the Parade Committee lost one of its best and brightest leaders, Julie Ross, who continued to work on the line-up for this year's parade even while battling a sudden and terminal illness, ever-mindful that our Show, the Parade, Must Go On. We miss her terribly.

Julie came to the Parade Committee as our representative for vendor JOTS / Republic Services, providing personalized and expert assistance as we planned our Run and Parade routes. Soon thereafter, she jumped into the Committee with both feet, quickly seeking more responsibility and greater ways to get involved. At all times, though, Julie remained effervescent, witty, and kind, always willing to step up and take on more responsibility. Her organizational skills were unparalleled, and her commitment to the Committee and the many friends she made here was inspiring.

IN MEMORIAM

Julie is survived by her husband Richard, her beautiful daughters Courtney and Kaitlyn, her son Lane Chadden, and her soon-to-be son-in-law John Courter.

Chris Wolf

In March of last year, Chris Wolf was there, as he was each year, to help make the St. Patrick's Day Parade Run go - in that case the Covid-limited event in Forest Park.

In June we were called to say goodbye to him. It was a shock to all who worked with him on this committee. Chris had previously been treated for pre-cancerous cells in his esophagus and appeared to be doing well. Then, in May, he experienced a persistent coughing condition which, as it turns out, was the manifestation of a rapid onset of esophageal cancer which took his life in just weeks.

We lost a great friend. Nearly thirty years ago Chris was recruited by one of his colleagues at A.G. Edwards (later Wells Fargo) to serve as a volunteer in securing the course for the Run. That was a fortuitous moment for our committee. Chris stayed for years thereafter and, for the last twenty years, headed up security for the Run. Due to his dedication and diligence, in excess of two hundred thousand runners have safely traversed the 5-mile course on downtown streets without incident. Even more importantly, Chris was always a positive influence in every phase of our activities. He valued the work of this committee so much that he designed a jersey of his beloved St. Louis Blues in green with the number 5 on the back, representing the 5-mile course for the Run. Chris was also a man of faith who sadly left behind his wife, Carrie, and daughters Naomi and Noelle in addition to his parents, Del and Doris Wolf, and his sister, Becky Mehrkens. We celebrated Chris's life in June with a last hurrah and we remember him this weekend as we set out on the events that he loved so well.
